So in the strategy we have signalled the importance of enabling people with low skills to access training that will help them get into a job, and keep it.

Thus, the infrastructure links programmed for the our poorest provinces.